Coming up:

*If your child will be gone on Friday- please let me know! They will need to test (spelling, bible and reading) and have their math project done and their explanatory writing project done and turned in by Thursday.

*The kids have been working on writing explanatory pieces. They have turned them into slideshows in google drive complete with pictures. They will be presenting them to the class this week. A few chose projects where those pictures will need to be taken at home and emailed to me. (Hopefully they asked you permission to complete this portion at home!)

*Our school is collecting money and supplies for our sister school in Uganda this week. Monday is penny day, Tuesday is nickel day, Wednesday is dime day, Thursday is quarter day and Friday is any denomination day.

*We have new AR goals and reading ranges. The kids should know this information. I'll send them home sometime this week as well.

*We have chapel on Wednesday morning at 8:15 and will go see the presentation of Annie Jr. on Thursday at 9 am. You are welcome to join us.
